ContourLine Self-confident and familiar

ContourLine is your self-assured partner in the kitchen. You can sense the technology that lies behind it. The focus is on professionalism and a passion for cooking.

Some familiar features have been reinterpreted. The solid handle forms part of a robust frame, using high-quality materials and carefully designed structures. Clear boundaries separate different elements, allowing materials and functional features to be cleverly combined.

ContourLine Clean Steel

ContourLine in Clean Steel (clst) offers a first-class cooking experience in a classic kitchen environment. The pure geometric lines of the handle and frame create a technical, modern effect, while at the same time feeling familiar and accessible.

ContourLine Controls

Premium appliances with SensorTronic controls

A five-line TFT display with sensor controls to the side presents all the menu options clearly. The key feature is easy navigation.

Reference II appliances with DirectControls

The dial on the left is turned to select the operating mode. Settings in the four-line text display, such as temperatures and cooking times, are chosen with the right-hand dial and confirmed using the sensor controls.

Discovery and Reference I appliances with EasyControls

The control elements are designed in a similar way to DirectControl, but with status information, such as temperature and time settings, appearing on a large seven-segment LC display.

Do

Vertical 2-niche array

The bottom product should always be a 60 cm oven for ergonomic reasons.

+ 60 cm oven

35 cm tall appliance
+ 60 cm oven

4-niche 'matrix' array

For ergonomic reasons, the coffee machine should be fitted in the top right and the steam oven in the top left niche, with the option of 2 warming drawers fitted in the bottom niche.

+ 60 cm tall appliance
+ 14 cm warming drawer

+ 60 cm tall appliance
+ 14 cm warming drawer

4-niche 'T' array

For aesthetic reasons, the centre appliance on the top row should be the coffee machine. A warming drawer should not feature under the 45 cm units due to the height difference compared with the oven fascia. Optionally, a warming drawer can be fitted below the 60 cm oven.

Don't

35 cm tall appliances

35 cm tall appliances should not be fitted horizontally with other built-in appliances. They should only be installed in vertical arrays.

35 cm tall appliances with 10 cm high warming/system drawers

The 10 cm high drawer and the 10 cm high trim was designed as a solution for the replacement market. They enable 35 cm tall appliances to be fitted in a 45 cm niche. 35 cm tall appliances should only be fitted in a 35 cm niche above another built-in appliance such as an oven.

Horizontal 3-niche 'panoramic' array

For aesthetic reasons, the centre appliance should be the coffee machine. A warming drawer can also be installed underneath each main appliance.

60 cm wide fascia dishwashers

Due to technical design, the control panel on dishwashers is wider than the control panel on built-in cooking appliances. They can be planned in horizontal combinations if required (e.g. next to an oven), but should not be used in vertical combinations.

Niche Considerations

Ovens, Microwave & Microwave Combination Ovens

Moisture Plus

By adding a burst of steam to the cooking process at just the right time, the Moisture Plus function will help you achieve outstanding results when baking bread and roasting meats, for example.

Pyrolytic cleaning

For effortless maintenance, this self-cleaning programme reduces food residues to ash which can be simply wiped away.

Popcorn button

Perfect popcorn at the press of a button. The Popcorn button on microwave and microwave combination ovens is suitable for preparing most types of popcorn available from supermarkets.
